

Choices are hard. This one is easy.

With every gift you make to the Urban Prosperity Fund, you invest in your future and the future of New Haven's African American community.

Be informed.

Learn about critical issues and opportunities impacting African American families through UPF-sponsored community events, educational forums and networking activities.

Be inspired.

Hear messages from motivational speakers about striving for excellence and balance, caring for your community as well as your family and yourself.

Be part of a powerful community.

Your gift will be added with others' for grants to local programs and services that support excellence in education, financial responsibility, healthy living and spirituality for African Americans. Grants will be determined by a group of community leaders working or living in New Haven neighborhoods.

Be someone who shapes the future.

African Americans have a tradition of giving time and treasure to the church, caring for loved ones, and giving food for the less fortunate in a moment of crisis or need. But we must also focus on the future.

Be a philanthropist.

The UPF encourages philanthropy as a means of economic empowerment and civic engagement.
